HOOVER BEGINS ON SELECTION OF NEW JUDGE

Naming of Successor to Sanford Regarded as Difficult Task.

CONFIRMATION IS PROBLEM

Fires of Hughes Contest Still Smouldering in Senate Ranks.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 12—President Hoover set out today to find a new justice of the United States Supreme court. The task is a difficult one—probably more difficult than any appointive task that has yet confronted Mr. Hoover.

The senate that cast 26 votes against the confirmation of Charles Evans Hughes as chief justice is certain to put Mr. Hoover's second choice for the bench under the microscope, for the fires of the bitter Hughes fight are still smoldering.

There is no dearth of candidates—every section and every faction has one or more.

South After Place

The South wants a southerner, for Justice Sanford, whose death caused the existing vacancy, came from the south. The Pacific coast has no member and wants one. The Democrats, with only two members of the present court, contend the appointment should go to a Democrat to relieve the top-heavy Republicanism of the bench. And above and beyond these conflicting claims is the demand voiced in the senate by opponents of the Hughes appointment that the new justice be "a liberal."

There has been some talk of Senator Borah. It is idle talk, for Senator Borah, with some 25 of his colleagues is constitutionally ineligible for judicial appointment at this time.

Four years ago the senate voted increases in judicial salaries, the supreme court among them.

Legal Restriction

Section Six of Article One of the constitution provides:

"No senator or representative shall, during the time for which he was elected, be appointed to any civil office under the authority of the United States, which shall have been created, or the emoluments whereof shall have been increased during such time . . ."

Borah is still serving the term in which he voted to increase judicial salaries and thus is automatically barred.

The statute does not apply, however, to two-thirds of the senate elected since the judicial salaries were increased. Senator Walter F. George, Democrat of Georgia, whose name has been prominently mentioned, comes within this list. Senator George is an outstanding lawyer and jurist of the south. He was for years chief justice of the Georgia supreme court.

It is rumored, however, that President Hoover has decided to appoint no man who opposed the Hughes nomination. Senator George did.

TAFT LEAVES BULK OF ESTATE TO WIFE

Will Is Filed for Probate in District of Columbia Court Today.

WASHINGTON, March 12—William Howard Taft, former president and chief justice who died Saturday, decreed that the major part of his estate—unestimated at present—revert to his widow, in his will which was filed for probate this afternoon in district supreme court. The will was dated April 27, 1927.

The largest individual bequest outside of the family was $10,000 for Yale university to be added to the alumni fund and credited to the anniversary fund of the class of 1878.

The sum of $2,500 was bequeathed to the Taft school, Watertown, Conn., of which his brother is president.

Papers, manuscripts, addresses and copyrights in his own custody and the Library of Congress would be divided between his three children, Charles P., Robert A. and Mrs. Helen Taft Manning. They were given "for such use as they (children) may deem it wise, after consultation with my wife, to make of them."

Other individual bequests in the will and its two codicils were:

All Soul's Unitarian church, Washington, of which he was a member, $2,500.

Wendell W. Mischler, his secretary, $5,000; Margaret McNamara, $1,000; Annie McNamara, $750; Thomas Halpin, $750.

He named his widow, Mrs. Taft, as the executrix.

Irate Father-in-Law Charged with Murder

By the Associated Press

LORAIN, March 12—Charged with murdering his son-in-law for eloping with his daughter, Anthony Dzaucis, 30, was held in the city police station today.

Police said Dzaucis, concealing a revolver in the hand he offered in ostensible forgiveness for the elopement of his 19-year-old daughter, Sofie, sent five bullets into the body of her husband, William Dineff, 22.

Dineff and his bride returned late last night from West Virginia, where they had run away to be married because of Dzaucis' approval of another suitor. Dineff was a roomer in the Dzaucis home.

MARCH FOR INDIA'S FREEDOM LAUNCHED

20,000 Witness Start of Gandhi and Disciples in Campaign Against British Crown

By The Associated Press

AHMADABAD, India, March 12—Inaugurating their campaign for complete Indian independence from Great Britain, Mahatma Gandhi, 61-year-old Nationalist leader, and 79 of his disciples today began a march to Jalalpur, where the first of their measures against the British crown will be enacted.

Twenty thousand persons gathered at the entrance of Mahatma Gandhi's quarters to watch the pioneer party make its exit at 6:30 a. m., in what was the first step of the long-heralded "civil disobedience" espoused by the all-India National congress at Lahore in January.

Other crowds lined the route chosen by the marchers, who planned their first two halts at the villages of Aslali and Bareja. Sixteen students of the Gujerat Viayapith (Gandhi's national university) all of whom had auspicious saffron marks on their foreheads, preceded the party proper.

Gandhi's appearance belied recurring reports that he had been arrested by order of the viceroy, Lord Irwin. It was regarded as by no means sure, however, that he would not be taken into custody, in which case the 16 students acting as an advance guard were expected to take up his program and continue the march ahead as propagandists.

The party planned to take 20 days to reach the Gulf of Cambay, where they will attempt to produce salt in violation of the government monopoly, thus inaugurating a program which has for its ultimate ends non-payment of taxes and nation-wide non-participation with the British government in Indian.

NEW PANEL CALLED FOR DOHENY TRIAL

11 Tentatively Seated from First Panel as Oil Man's Hearing Starts.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 12—Failing to secure a jury to try Edward L. Doheny, millionaire oil man, on a charge of bribing Albert B. Fall, from a panel of 26, Justice William Hitz today summoned another panel.

Eleven remained in the jury box tentatively. The government had excused six and the defense five and four challenges remained to the government and five to the defense. Two veniremen had been excused for cause.

At the beginning of the trial today Justice Hitz overruled a plea by Doheny's counsel that placing him on trial on the bribery charge would constitute double jeopardy. They contended that the matter of the $100,000, that Doheny gave Fall had been disposed of in a previous trial in which Doheny and Fall were charged with conspiracy and were acquitted.

Doheny's attorneys today had made no move to have the old man tried before another judge, despite their employers shout of "It's that damn judge," after Fall had been convicted last October of receiving the bribe. Justice Hitz was not in the courtroom at the time and court was not in session.

"LIFE FOR LIQUOR" LAW VICTIM FREED

Mrs. Etta Mae Miller Released from Michigan Prison on Bond.

By The Associated Press

LANSING, Mich., March 2—Mrs. Etta Mae Miller, a victim of Michigan's former "life-for-liquor" law, was free today for the first time in 14 months.

The 50-year-old mother and housewife, who began a life sentence in the Detroit House of Correction after her conviction here Dec. 31, 1928, on a fourth liquor felony, returned to her home and her husband last night. She was released on $2,500 bond pending a new trial granted by the supreme court.

Under a former section of Michigan's habitual criminal law, conviction of four liquor offenses made a life sentence mandatory. The last state legislature removed liquor offenses from the classification of felonies under which the life sentence is imposed. Her sentence then was commuted to 7½ to 15 years.

YEGGS' WORK USELESS

By The Associated Press

AKRON, March 12—Rev. Ed. Fager, pastor of the East Market Street Reformed Church, revealed to police today that the safe in the church had been "cracked" by yeggs. They had used a powerful explosive which tore the safe door loose from its hinges and hurled it into the room. After going to all the trouble of opening the strong box the burglars found that the safe was empty.

SCHOOL BOARD MAY DISMISS EMPLOYES

Detroit Order Likely To Mean Ouster of Mrs. Evangeline Lindbergh.

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, March 12—The Detroit board of education had under advisement today a proposal to discharge all of its employes who are aliens and all those who live outside the corporate limits of Detroit.

Included among the latter is Mrs. Evangeline Lodge Lindbergh, mother of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh who is a teacher of chemistry at Cass Technical High school. Mrs. Lindbergh is a resident of Grosse Point, a contiguous suburb of the city.

The names of Mrs. Lindbergh and 785 other teachers who live outside the city were reported to the board last night by Superintendent Frank Cody, who made a residence and citizenship survey of employes on orders from the board. The survey was called for immediately after the city council had ordered dismissal of all aliens on public payrolls under its jurisdiction.

Mr. Cody found that the board employs 294 aliens of whom 29 are teachers. All of the alien teachers except an exchange instructor from Oxford university have applied for citizenship.

The board took no action last night on the resolution.

START CENSUS APRIL 2

By the Associated Press

ATLANTA, March 12—Enumeration of the decennial federal census will start April 2 instead of April 1 because of the superstition of some persons regarding April fool's day, Dr. William M. Steurat, census director, told district supervisors from five southeastern states in a two-day school ending here today.

ROAD DAMAGE TO RUN HIGH

Surveyor Leavens States Highways in Worst Condition Since 1920.

REPAIR PLANS DELAYED

Two Projects in State Program for Marion County This Year.

Sudden changes in temperature that have prevailed this winter have put Marion county's roads in the worst condition in 10 years, County Surveyor Cecil Leavens declared today.

"I haven't seen road conditions as bad since 1920, and that holds true for the entire state as well as Marion county," Leavens said.

"Freezing and thawing have occurred so often this winter that the traffic bound roads have become broken in many places," he declared although the better roads have withstood the weather in fairly good shape.

Plans Delayed

Because of the condition the roads now are in the county's plans for improvement have been delayed and probably will not be formulated until warm weather comes, the surveyor said.

Widening of the Harding highway east of Marion as far as the county line will be undertaken by the state highway department in cooperation with the county as soon as definite plans are made. The road is to be widened to 20 feet. Whether or not top improvement will consist only of adding new shoulders or of entirely rebuilding the road has not been determined, according to Leavens.

A new bridge on route No. 23, between Marion and Upper Sandusky, also is on the road building program for the near future.

SHERIFF FRANCIS ILL WITH SMALLPOX

Official Is Under Quarantine in Residence in County Jail Building.

Sheriff John J. Francis was quarantined at his residence in the county jail building this morning at 10:30 o'clock for smallpox, Dr. W. J. Weiser, city health commissioner, reported today.

Sheriff Francis has been ill for several days, Dr. Weiser said, but the telltale pocks were not in evidence until today. He was immediately placed under quarantine.

The case is not serious and Sheriff Francis may be released in a week or 10 days, as the case is already several days old, Dr. Weiser said.

Vaccination of the inmates of the jail and everyone connected with the Francis household was expected today.

Fine as 'Varnish Remover' But Inferior Moonshine

By The Associated Press

EVANSTON, Ill., March 12—William Harper, referring to the gallon jug found in the back of his car when stopped by Evanston police yesterday said:

"Varnish remover!"

Squad members taking a sniff one after the other agreed:

"Smells like varnish remover!"

But just to make sure they took him to the station, where he produced a paintbrush and applied some of the liquid to the sergeant's desk. The varnish immediately shriveled up prompting the sergeant to assert:

"Acts like varnish remover!"

But just to make doubly sure, Captain Charles Paasch, who has charge of liquor cases, was called in. He wets his finger with the liquid, tasted it gingerly and announced:

"It is varnish remover, and a very good grade—but it is also moonshine, a very poor grade."

Harper was locked up.

FRENCH SHOW FIRMNESS ON NAVY DEMAND

Expected To Insist on Large Tonnage or Guarantee of Security.

MAY BRING DEADLOCK

U. S. Refuses To Consider Entering Into Military Pledge Pact.

By the Associated Press

LONDON, March 12—Indications today were that the French delegation to the five-power conference had decided to remain adamant in its demand for a navy of 724,000 tons or the consent of the other four powers to a pact guaranteeing French security.

This information followed authoritative American statement that the United States could not participate even in an agreement to consult with the other powers in the event French security is threatened, much less sign a military pact. It was understood also that the British cabinet had assumed a similar position, warning its conference delegation that no further political entanglements would be countenanced.

Impasse Threatened

The developments, all of which have come rather rapidly since return of a French delegation here, headed by Aristide Briand, French foreign minister, threatened a most serious impasse for the conference, and clouded hopes that a five-power treaty limiting sea armaments at any considerable figure would be evolved.

A Frenchman close to this country's delegation here declared "There will be no weakening."

"The French attitude is that they must have the right to build this tonnage even though they probably never will build it. It appears that they will put all their cards on the table and go to Paris with their original tonnage figures unless some sort of security pact is forthcoming; this latter seems extremely doubtful."

Basis of Stand by U. S.

The American stand in opposition even to some sort of consultative agreement was understood here to have been based on belief that if such a pact were made as the "price" of France's cutting down her tonnage claims, the latter country might in case of war claim America had a moral obligation to intervene, since France had agreed to cut her fleet plans because of any treaty which may be evolved here.

Colonel Stimson, American secretary of state, and Prime Minister MacDonald are understood to have discussed the matter thoroughly together, both standing unalterably opposed to any "entangling" agreement. Both are understood also to believe that even if they personally approve such agreement neither parliament or senate would back them up.

Approximately 200 teachers are expected to attend the meeting. The morning session of the all-day meet will get under way at 9:30 o'clock.

COMPLETE JURY FOR TRIAL OF GUNWOMAN

10 Men and Two Women To Try Irene Schrader for Murder.

By The Associated Press

NEW CASTLE, Pa., March 12—A jury of 10 men and two women was completed today to try Irene Shrader for the murder of Corporal Brady Paul.

The twelfth juror, John Fullerton, was accepted shortly before the noon recess. He was the 105th venireman to be questioned in the three days of court sessions since the trial began.

Court adjourned for the noon recess after the jury was completed. Opening statements of counsel will begin at the resumption of court this afternoon, and taking of testimony will not begin until tomorrow.

The court will not hold a night session.

When the slow process of picking a jury entered its third day, defense counsel abandoned their efforts to secure acquittal of the "blond gunwoman." Thomas W. Dickey of the defense counsel announced that "our fight is to save her life."

The second regular panel of veniremen was exhausted at the first night session of the trial last night with only nine jurors seated.

GERMANS OK YOUNG PLAN

Reichstag Gives Final Approval to Reparations Schedule.

59-YEAR PROGRAM FIXED

Supercedes Dawes Plan; Only Von Hindenburg's Signature Needed.

By The Associated Press

BERLIN, March 12—The Reichstag today finally approved the Young plan.

The vote today was 270 in favor of the plan and 192 against it, with three abstentions.

The Young plan was given second reading in the Reichstag yesterday by a vote of 251 to 171 and today's approval had been looked upon as certain.

Fixes Payments

Under the Young plan, which was signed in Paris on June 7, 1929, the payments which Germany must make to the allied powers for the next 59 years were fixed. Delegates representing six creditor nations, the United States, Great Britain, France, Belgium, Italy and Japan then signed the report with the representatives of Germany.

The Young plan superceded the Dawes plan, under which S. Parker Gilbert had been agent general for reparations.

The plan, which took its name from Owen D. Young, called for a reduction of the reparations annuities during the next 37 years from approximately $600,000,000 to an average of approximately $192,000,000.

Annuities Recommended

Annuities of $165,000,000 were recommended for the last 22 years subject to the profits of the bank for international settlements created under the agreement.

The Young plan measure now only requires President von Hindenburg's signature and publication of the ratification in the official gazette before the plan by which the financial aftermath of the World war will be liquidated will become law as far as Germany is concerned.

A certificate for $10,000 of this amount was received last week and the remainder will be sent in quarterly installments.

Each township, the latter said, will benefit to the extent of approximately $1,300 during the year, while each municipality will receive approximately $5 for each of its registered automobiles.

Marion county's 15 townships each received $260 last week as its quarterly share, while Marion county was given a certificate of $5,011.

WOMEN VOICE URGENT PLEAS FOR DRY LAW

Mrs. Ford and Mrs. Edison Send Views on Prohibition to Washington Hearing.

OTHER LEADERS HEARD

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 12—More than a score of prominent club and society women from all sections of the country were mustered to the defense of the prohibition laws today by dry leaders presenting testimony before the house judiciary committee in opposition to the repeal of the eighteenth amendment.

They came with prepared statements intended to show a cross section of the opposition of American womanhood. All said the majority of their sex was in favor of the dry laws. Brief statements from Mrs. Henry Ford and Mrs. Thomas A. Edison were submitted.

It was the prohibitionists' third day before the committee. Four more are to follow.

A prominent witness was Mrs. John F. Sippel, of Baltimore, president of the General Federation of Women's clubs, who had received an anonymous telephone call threatening harm should she appear in favor of the dry laws.

Take Same Stand

Mrs. Ford and Mrs. Edison agreed in favoring prohibition.

"I stand for the law that has proved a blessing for one station in life and would be an equal blessing to those enjoying greater privileges in this world if they would give the law a fair chance," the inventor's wife wrote.

"I am heartily in favor of the eighteenth amendment without modification," Mrs. Ford's statement read. "It is a law of the United States and should be observed by all of us. In my opinion it has been of untold benefit to the women as well as men of our country in improved living conditions and a more prosperous nation."

Mrs. Henry W. Peabody of Massachusetts, chairman of the Women's National Committee for Law Enforcement, explained her organization was affiliated with organizations having an aggregate of 12,000,000.

Eight-Year Record

"These great organizations," her statement said, "have stood in support of the constitution and its law for eight years. They concentrate efforts on the eighteenth amendment.

"Opponents of prohibition among women do not ring true in statements regarding their sudden discovery of the awful menace to youth through alcohol," she continued, "and their inconsistent demand that it therefore be restored to a legal status. Youth has not changed essentially. We have always had flaming youth, the flame increased by alcohol. Today we have a new type, flying youth—the finest yet and most likely to dispense with alcoholic stimulants."

Advocates of personal liberty, she said, did not rebel against prohibition.

LIQUOR BUYER CASE APPEALED BY GOV'T

Supreme Court To Decide If Purchaser Is Guilty of Crime.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 12—The Department of Justice today carried to the supreme court a test case to determine whether the purchaser of intoxicating liquor is guilty of conspiracy. The appeal was made from the recent decision of Federal Judge Morton of Boston in which he held that the purchase of liquor was not a crime.

The government already has pending before the court a case involving a conspiracy between a purchaser and a seller to transport intoxicating liquors.

In announcing the filing of the second case to determine whether the purchasing of intoxicating liquor for beverage purposes is of itself a violation of the prohibition act, the department said the action was taken in view of the diversity of opinion of various judges on the question.

The new test case involves the charges against James E. Farrar who was held by Judge Morton not to have been guilty of a crime in purchasing liquor.

Hog Victim of New "Racket"

300-Pound Porker Enticed from Pen By Corn, Then Killed

Somewhere in Marion county last night, a bloody "murder" was perpetrated, with a 300 pound hog as the victim. An axe was used for the killing, after the victim had been enticed from its pen by corn.

Mystery surrounds the whereabouts of the "murder," or the name of the man or men who committed it. The axe, and an automobile which was used to transport the swine to the city, are in the possession of police. The hog is at the city lot on Owens st.

The "murder" was brought to light at 1:30 o'clock this morning when patrolmen of the police force saw the hog being taken from the blood-stained automobile into the house of Mack McGregory, colored, at the corner of Senate and Hocking sts. They investigated.

The door of the house was closed and no one answered their knock. Breaking in the door, they found the porker laying on the kitchen floor. The men had escaped.

The car was towed to police station, and the body of the hog was taken to the city lot on a truck. The owner of the hog had not been located this morning.

WASH YOUR KIDNEYS BY DRINKING WATER

If Your Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers; Also Take Some Salts

Flush your kidneys by drinking a quart of water each day, also take salts occasionally, says a noted authority, who tells us that too much rich food forms acids which almost paralyze the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken; then you may suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritate, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To help neutralize these irritating acids, to help cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste, get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days, and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

FORMER PROSECUTOR ON WAY TO PRISON

San Quentin Opens To Receive Asa Keyes; Once District Attorney.

By The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES, March 12—A speeding train today bore Asa Keyes, former district attorney of Los Angeles, to the penitentiary at San Quentin, where as a convict he will join thousands of men who were sent there by him or his deputies.

The iron nerve of the former prosecutor failed him last night as he said good-bye to his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Keyes, and his daughter Beth in the drawing room of the Pullman car that bears him prisonward.

The three were left alone for a few minutes before the train left. Finally the two women emerged, their faces wet with tears.

"When you come back, we'll be here waiting for you," Mrs. Keyes said as she turned away.

Although he fought to maintain his composure, Keyes faltered as his wife and daughter departed.

Keyes was convicted of a charge of bribery conspiracy growing out of its alleged failure to properly prosecute persons accused of fraud in the spectacular collapse here several years ago of the Julian Petroleum Corp. Keyes was convicted of accepting bribes totalling more than $100,000 to "soft pedal" the prosecution of certain company officials.

ANOTHER BYRD VOYAGE LIKELY

DUNEDIN, N. Z., March 12—Possibility that Rear Admiral Richard Byrd will take another expedition into the Antarctic was foreseen here today.

Admiral Byrd in an interview said: "If I were to say what I am going to do next, my remarks would cause a sensation."

Although the intrepid explorer, who returned Monday after more than a year at the bottom of the world during which he flew over the South Pole, declined to commit himself further, the trend of events here and feeling among his party indicate he hopes to return to the Antarctic to make further explorations east of the Ross sea.

Although Norwegian and other expeditions are now working west of the sea, it was pointed out that there are still vast territories unexplored, notably between the Bay of Whales and Deception island, the latter the base of Sir Hubert Wilkins in his Antarctic flights.

"I feel under obligations to those who have donated material to this expedition," Byrd said, "and all unused will be returned to them."

Although most members of his expedition have left Dunedin on trips for fishing or hunting, Admiral Byrd is rushed with work here in an endeavor to start for home next Wednesday or Thursday. The City of New York is on the dry dock and the steamer Eleanor Bolling goes on tomorrow for refitting.

SENATE VOTES MORE FARM BUREAU MONEY

Approves $100,000,000 Addition to Market Stabilization After Warm Debate

WASHINGTON, March 12—An extra appropriation of $100,000,000 for the Federal Farm board, to be used in stabilizing the wheat and cotton markets, was approved by the senate today but only after an hour's debate in which the administration was severely criticized for delaying farm relief.

Some of the high lights of debate were an announcement that the Federal Farm board had purchased 7,000,000 bushels of wheat to date and planned to buy 100,000,000 bushels if necessary; that the board is buying in the "open market" and that it has "speculated" in futures, just as have the so-called "grain gamblers."

Charges were made by farm bloc leaders that the board's policy is "trivial" and that from $1,000,000,000 to $1,500,000,000 is necessary to actually stabilize farm prices.

UNUSUAL WILL CASE SETTLED

COURT RULES CHILD NOT HEIR OF LONGS

Decision on Paternity of Boy Eliminates Him from $40,000 Estate.

By The Associated Press

AKRON, March 12—One of Ohio's strangest will cases, involving both the paternity of a two-year-old boy and the question of which of his supposed parents died first, had been settled today.

Common Pleas Judge L. S. Pardee decided that the child known as Carl, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl H. Long, is Richard Lee Rush and therefore not entitled to share in the $40,000 estate left by the Longs when they died in the Cleveland Clinic disaster. Miss Lorella Rush, 20, of Clinton, had testified the boy was born to her and given to Mrs. Long the next day.

This ruling left the question of whether Long or his wife perished first in order to determine which of their heirs would receive the estate. There was no accurate information as to the exact times of their deaths, although they occurred the same afternoon, and on the advice of attorneys the case was settled out of court. It was understood that Mrs. Glenn Neitz, daughter of Mrs. Long by a former marriage, her sister and her brother, will receive $1,000 each and the remainder will go to Long's father and four brothers.

Mrs. Neitz was awarded custody of the child. All of the principals involved are residents of Barberton.

CENSUS TO DECIDE

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 12—There is a question whether males still outnumber females in these United States and it will be answered by this year's census. The excess of males in the country's history, Dr. Joseph A. Hill, acting director of the census, explains, has been due largely to immigration. In 1920 the ratio was 104 men to 100 women.

YANKEES LOOK STRONGER THIS YEAR

NEW PLAYERS WILL STRENGTHEN TEAM

Former Champions May Give Philadelphia Athletics Hard Battle for American League Pennant

Editor's Note.—This is the seventh of a series of articles on the major league baseball clubs now in spring training.

BY JAMES L. KILGALLEN

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 12—"The club that beats the Yankees out of the 1930 pennant will know they have been in a fight."

This was as far as Bob Shawkey, new manager of the New York Yankees, would go today in the way of predicting what his troupe would do this season, although as he talked, he was peering at a formidable looking aggregation of ball players, including Babe Ruth, highest paid star in the game.

"Just say we'll be in there trying all the way," said Shawkey.

This year the Yankees are a different type ball club than they were a year ago and Shawkey knows it. The over-confidence of a year ago this time has disappeared. The beating the Philadelphia Athletics administered in 1929 has had its effect. There has been enough of an injection of young blood into the club to put it on its toes. The old cocksure attitude of the regular has given way to a new fighting spirit.

Ruth was out shagging balls with the enthusiasm of a rookie as Shawkey looked the players over. Nineteen pitchers were working out on the sidelines and in the "bull pens." They ranged from green rookies like Bob Walsh, 23-year-old son of "Big Ed" Walsh, the famous spitball star, to the veteran southpaw, Herb Pennock. Prancing around the infield were veterans like Gehrig and Lazzeri and newcomers of ability such as Ben Chapman, who came up from St. Paul with a batting average of .336. The team showed as much pep and ginger as any this writer has looked at this spring at the various camps.

Shawkey said the Yankees were being re-built and that is why he has so many youngsters in camp. It was a little too early, he thought, to say which one of the rookies might make the grade as regulars.

Ruth, of course, will be the Yanks' big siege gun, and he will be back in right field for as many games as he is able to play and the Bambino himself thinks he will negotiate the full schedule. He rather indignantly asks: "Why not?" Earle Coombs will be in center field when the season opens and it is Shawkey's present intention to use Allen Cooke, who hit .358 for St. Paul in the American Association last year, in left field—the post left open by the departure of Bob Meusel to Cincinnati.

Asked if he wouldn't miss the hard hitting Meusel, Shawkey replied, "I wouldn't have traded him if I thought we would."

The infield probably will be composed of Gehrig at first, Lazzeri at second, Koenig at short and Chapman at third. However, Shawkey said he would give Jimmy Reese, up from Oakland in the Pacific Coast league where he batted .337, and Lyn Lary, who hit .309 last season, plenty of chances to break into the infield. Shawkey admitted that Leo Durocher was a great fielding infielder but did not believe the Yanks will miss him. Durocher, a talkative, scrappy player, will perform with the Reds this year.

Behind the bat Shawkey plans to use Dickey and Hargrave. The New York manager said he cannot yet tell whether Benny Bengough's arm is in shape to throw out runners at second.

The pitching staff is Shawkey's main concern. A great pitcher himself in his prime Shawkey places great reliance on the pitching department. He has been personally looking over the 19 twirlers who are working out daily. He has been decidedly impressed by Americus Polli, the black-haired right-hander up from St. Paul with a record of having won 22 games and lost only nine last year.

Two other good looking young pitchers are Vernon Gomez, a southpaw, who won 18 and lost 11 with San Francisco last year and Louis McEvoy, a right-hander who won 22 and lost 12 with Oakland last season. Shawkey said that if young Walsh, who looks like his famous father, is anywhere near as good as his dad he'll do. He lacks experience more than anything else.

Shawkey plans to put the burden of the pitching early in the season on his veterans—Hoyt, Pennock, Pipgras, Sherid, Zachary and Heimach. Either Polli or Gomez, or both, may break in quickly as starting pitchers.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy cheeks—sparkling eyes—most women can have. Dr. F. M. Edwards for 20 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave his patients a substitute for calomel made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients, naming them Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets. Know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, causing a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, sallow look dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, head aches, a listless no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, take one of Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets—now and then to keep fit. 15c, 30c and 60c.—Adv.

The Springfield team comes here with an excellent record, having been champions of the state for the last three years. They are to all appearances headed for another title if the Marion Y does not stem the rush in their contest tomorrow night. The game should be one of the best to be played here this year as the local squad also has a team which has not been beaten this year.

GRUDGE BATTLE ON FRIDAY MAT CARD

LaRue Indian Will Wrestle Marion Heavyweight in Preliminary.

Wrestling fans are to be treated to another top notch performance on Friday night of this week. Following on the heels of last week's highly interesting and successful card comes the announcement that the ambitious Dr. Wilson will again enter the ring, this time against another Hoosier who has wrestled here in the past. Railroad Kerr will provide the opposition for the physician in this week's showing. This promises to be a good scrap for both men have produced the goods in past showings here. The match will be a light heavyweight attraction.

Les Fishbaugh, the wrestling cobbler from Newark, Ohio, will tangle with Jack Demar the Texas bulldogger in the semi-final go of the card. Fishbaugh has been pleasing the fans around his home town and Columbus for the last several years with his rough tactics and fighting spirit.

Flannigan vs. Long Time Sleep

In case some of the Marion residents or wrestling fans should look out their windows some morning to see some human transporting himself along the highway clad only in nightshirt, B. V. D.'s, or some other unsuitable form of clothing don't rub your eyes and think you are seeing things. It is probably none other than the big heavyweight from Marion, Flannigan by name, getting in his early morning roadwork to condition himself for his bout with Long Time Sleep, the LaRue Indian.

How long the redskin has been asleep no one seems to know and every one seems to care less but when said Flannigan took the stump at last week's matches and challenged any one from Marion county to meet him on the mat, Long Time Sleep came to life in exactly nothing flat. Vowing defeat to his husky challenger the "Pride of LaRue" rushed to Marion to wrestle his man immediately. "Long Timer" could see no reason for waiting for Friday night; he wanted to get the dirty work over in the shortest possible time, so he peeled off the outer garments and dared his opponent to come to the center of the Markert and Lewis cigar store and do battle. Jim Lewis (perhaps with an eye to property values) decided such was not to be, however, so he persuaded the Indian to make a return trip and meet Flannigan in the Friday night arrangement. The fight is scheduled as a preliminary attraction.

TRINITY BAPTISTS, CHRISTIANS NO. 1 LEAD CAGE LEAGUE

Defeat Waldo Lutherans and Christians No. 2 To Stay on Top.

Central Christian No. 1 and Trinity Baptist fives kept their slate clean by winning their fourth game of the season last night. Central Christians No. 1 defeated No. 2 team of the same church while Trinity Baptists were administering a 28 to 15 drubbing to the Waldo Lutheran squad. Applegett, center of the Trinity Baptists was high point man for his team gathering a total of 13 markers.

In the other two games of the schedule First Presbyterians handed United Brethren the short end of a 27 to 20 score. Epworth M. E. went on a scoring spree and walloped the weak Calvary Evangelical five to the tune of 55 to 29. Evans and Cram scored 16 and 15 points respectively for the winners and Tschanan made 11 for the losers.

Sure Way to Get Rid of Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. Then you destroy it entirely.

To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.

MONTGOMERY LOSES TO PRIMO CARNERA

Alpine Slugger Stops Former Gridder Early in Second Round.

By The Associated Press

MINNEAPOLIS, March 12—Sully Montgomery, once famous as a Centre College gridder and weighing 220 pounds, today is the newest member of the society of American boxers, who have been knocked out by Primo Carnera, the ninth to gain admission since the Italian giant's invasion of the United States got under way.

Montgomery was willing but his battle ardor cooled early in the initial round of a bout scheduled for 10 rounds last night and he was staggering as he sought his corner when the bell rang ending the first round. A flurry of gloves from the 275 pound Alpine slugger in the second round sent Montgomery to the canvas twice, the second time to stay, when the round was only one minute and seconds old.

YANKEES LOOK STRONGER THIS YEAR

NEW PLAYERS WILL STRENGTHEN TEAM

Former Champions May Give Philadelphia Athletics Hard Battle for American League Pennant

Editor's Note.—This is the seventh of a series of articles on the major league baseball clubs now in spring training.

BY JAMES L. KILGALLEN

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 12—"The club that beats the Yankees out of the 1930 pennant will know they have been in a fight."

This was as far as Bob Shawkey, new manager of the New York Yankees, would go today in the way of predicting what his troupe would do this season, although as he talked he was peering at a formidable looking aggregation of ball players, including Babe Ruth, highest paid star in the game.

"Just say we'll be in there trying all the way," said Shawkey.

This year the Yankees are a different type ball club than they were a year ago and Shawkey knows it. The over-confidence of a year ago this time has disappeared. The beating the Philadelphia Athletics administered in 1929 has had its effect. There has been enough of an injection of young blood into the club to put it on its toes. The old cocksure attitude of the regular has given way to a new fighting spirit.

Ruth was out shagging balls with the enthusiasm of a rookie as Shawkey looked the players over. Nineteen pitchers were working out on the sidelines and in the "bull pens." They ranged from green rookies like Bob Walsh, 23-year-old son of "Big Ed" Walsh, the famous spitball star, to the veteran southpaw, Herb Pennock. Prancing around the infield were veterans like Gehrig and Lazzeri and newcomers of ability such as Ben Chapman, who came up from St. Paul with a batting average of .336. The team showed as much pep and ginger as any this writer has looked at this spring at the various camps

Shawkey said the Yankees were being re-built and that is why he has so many youngsters in camp. It was a little too early, he thought, to say which one of the rookies might make the grade as regulars.

Ruth, of course, will be the Yanks' big siege gun, and he will be back in right field for as many games as he is able to play and the Bambino himself thinks he will negotiate the full schedule. He rather indignantly asks: "Why not?" Earle Coombs will be in center field when the season opens and it is Shawkey's present intention to use Allen Cooke, who hit .358 for St. Paul in the American Association last year, in left field—the post left open by the departure of Bob Meusel to Cincinnati.

Asked if he wouldn't miss the hard hitting Meusel, Shawkey replied:

"I wouldn't have traded him if I thought we would."

The infield probably will be comprised of Gehrig at first, Lazzeri at second, Koenig at short and Chapman at third. However, Shawkey said he would give Jimmy Reese, up from Oakland in the Pacific Coast league where he batted .337, and Lyn Lary, who hit .309 last season, plenty of chances to break into the infield. Shawkey admitted that Leo Durocher was a great fielding infielder but did not believe the Yanks will miss him. Durocher, a talkative, scrappy player, will perform with the Reds this year.

Behind the bat Shawkey plans to use Dickey and Hargrave. The new Yank manager said he cannot yet tell whether Benny Bengough's arm is in shape to throw out runners at second.

The pitching staff is Shawkey's main concern. A great pitcher himself in his prime, Shawkey places great reliance on the pitching department. He has been personally looking over the 19 twirlers who are working out daily. He has been decidedly impressed by Americus Polli, the black-haired right-hander up from St Paul with a record of having won 22 games and lost only nine last year.

Two other good looking young pitchers are Vernon Gomez, a southpaw, who won 18 and lost 11 with San Francisco last year and Louis McEvoy, a right-hander who won 22 and lost 12 with Oakland last season. Shawkey said that if young Walsh, who looks like his famous father, is anywhere near as good as his dad he will do. He lacks experience more than anything else.

Shawkey plans to put the burden of the pitching early in the season on his veterans—Hoyt, Pennock, Pipgras, Sherid, Zachary and Heimach. Either Polli or Gomez, or both, may break in quickly as starting pitchers.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy cheeks—sparkling eyes—most women can have. Dr. F. M. Edwards for 20 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave his patients a substitute for calomel made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients, naming them Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets. Know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, causing a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, sallow look dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, head aches, a listless no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, take one of Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets—now and then to keep fit, 15c, 30c and 60c.—Adv.

The Springfield team comes here with an excellent record, having been champions of the state for the last three years. They are to all appearances headed for another title if the Marion Y does not stem the rush in their contest tomorrow night. GRUDGE BATTLE ON FRIDAY MAT CARD

LaRue Indian Will Wrestle Marion Heavyweight in Preliminary.

Wrestling fans are to be treated to another top notch performance on Friday night of this week. Following on the heels of last week's highly interesting and successful card comes the announcement that the ambitious Dr. Wilson will again enter the ring, this time against another Hoosier who has wrestled here in the past. Railroad Root will provide the opposition for the physician in this week's showing. This promises to be a good scrap for both men have produced the goods in past showings here. The match will be a light heavyweight attraction.

Les Fishbaugh, the wrestling cobbler from Newark, Ohio, will tangle with Jack Domar the Texas bulldogger in the semi-final go of the card. Fishbaugh has been pleasing the fans around his home town and Columbus for the last several years with his rough tactics and fighting spirit.

Flannigan vs. Long Time Sleep

In case some of the Marion residents or wrestling fans should look out their windows some morning to see some human transporting himself along the highway clad only in nightshirt, B. V. D.'s, or some other unsuitable form of clothing don't rub your eyes and think you are seeing things. It is probably none other than the big heavyweight from Marion, Flannigan by name, getting in his early morning roadwork to condition himself for his bout with Long Time Sleep, the LaRue Indian.

How long the redskin has been asleep no one seems to know and every one seems to care less but when said Flannigan took the stump at last week's matches and challenged any one from Marion county to meet him on the mat, Long Time Sleep came to life in exactly nothing flat. Vowing defeat to his husky challenger the "Pride of LaRue" rushed to Marion to wrestle his man immediately. "Long Timer" could see no reason for waiting for Friday night; he wanted to get the dirty work over in the shortest possible time, so he peeled off the outer garments and dared his opponent to come to the center of the Markert and Lewis cigar store and do battle. Jim Lewis (perhaps with an eye to property values) decided such was not to be, however, so he persuaded the Indian to make a return trip and meet Flannigan in the Friday night arrangement. The fight is scheduled as a preliminary attraction.

Central Christian No. 1 and Trinity Baptist fives kept their slates clean by winning their fourth games of the season last night. Central Christians No. 1 defeated No. 2 team of the same church while Trinity Baptists were administering a 28 to 15 drubbing to the Waldo Lutheran squad. Applegett, center of the Trinity Baptists was high point man for his team gathering a total of 13 markers.

In the other two games of the schedule First Presbyterians handed United Brethren the short end of a 27 to 20 score. Epworth M. E. went on a scoring spree and walloped the weak Calvary Evangelical five to the tune of 55 to 29. BOOSTER TEAMS TO ROLL IN TOURNEY

Home Town Teams To Occupy Alleys for Two Days.

By The Associated Press.

CLEVELAND, March 12—A night and two days of booster slamming faces the sticks in the annual tournament of the American Bowling congress here before out-of-town teams again make their appearance.

When Milwaukee, Detroit, Erie, Buffalo, Alliance and Niles Center quintets come here tomorrow night it will mark the beginning of a continuous onslaught by out-of-town delegations which will not end until the night of April 7. The only change in the standing was in the all events.

Sure Way to Get Rid of Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. Then you destroy it entirely.

To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.

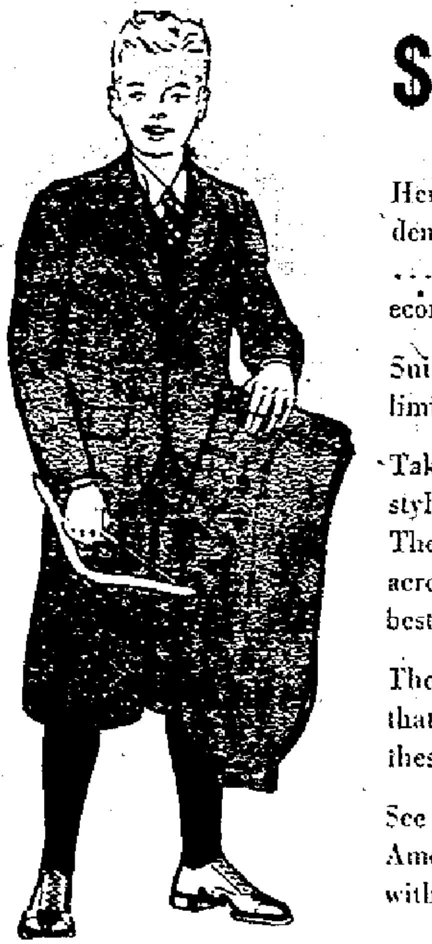
STURDI-BOY SUITS



$8.95 to $15.95

Here are exceptional suits...suits that demonstrate quality through and through ...built on the theory that quality is economy.

Suits so carefully tailored there's almost no limit to their capacity for boy action.

Take their inspiration from University stylings...give youngsters a mannish air. The woolens are the pick of mills here and across the sea. Real boy style at its very best!

The colors are new too...bright tonings that keep pace with everything else about these service-satisfying clothes.

See them...See Sturdiboy particularly... America's wear-resisting boys' suit... a suit with the "staying power" that boys want.

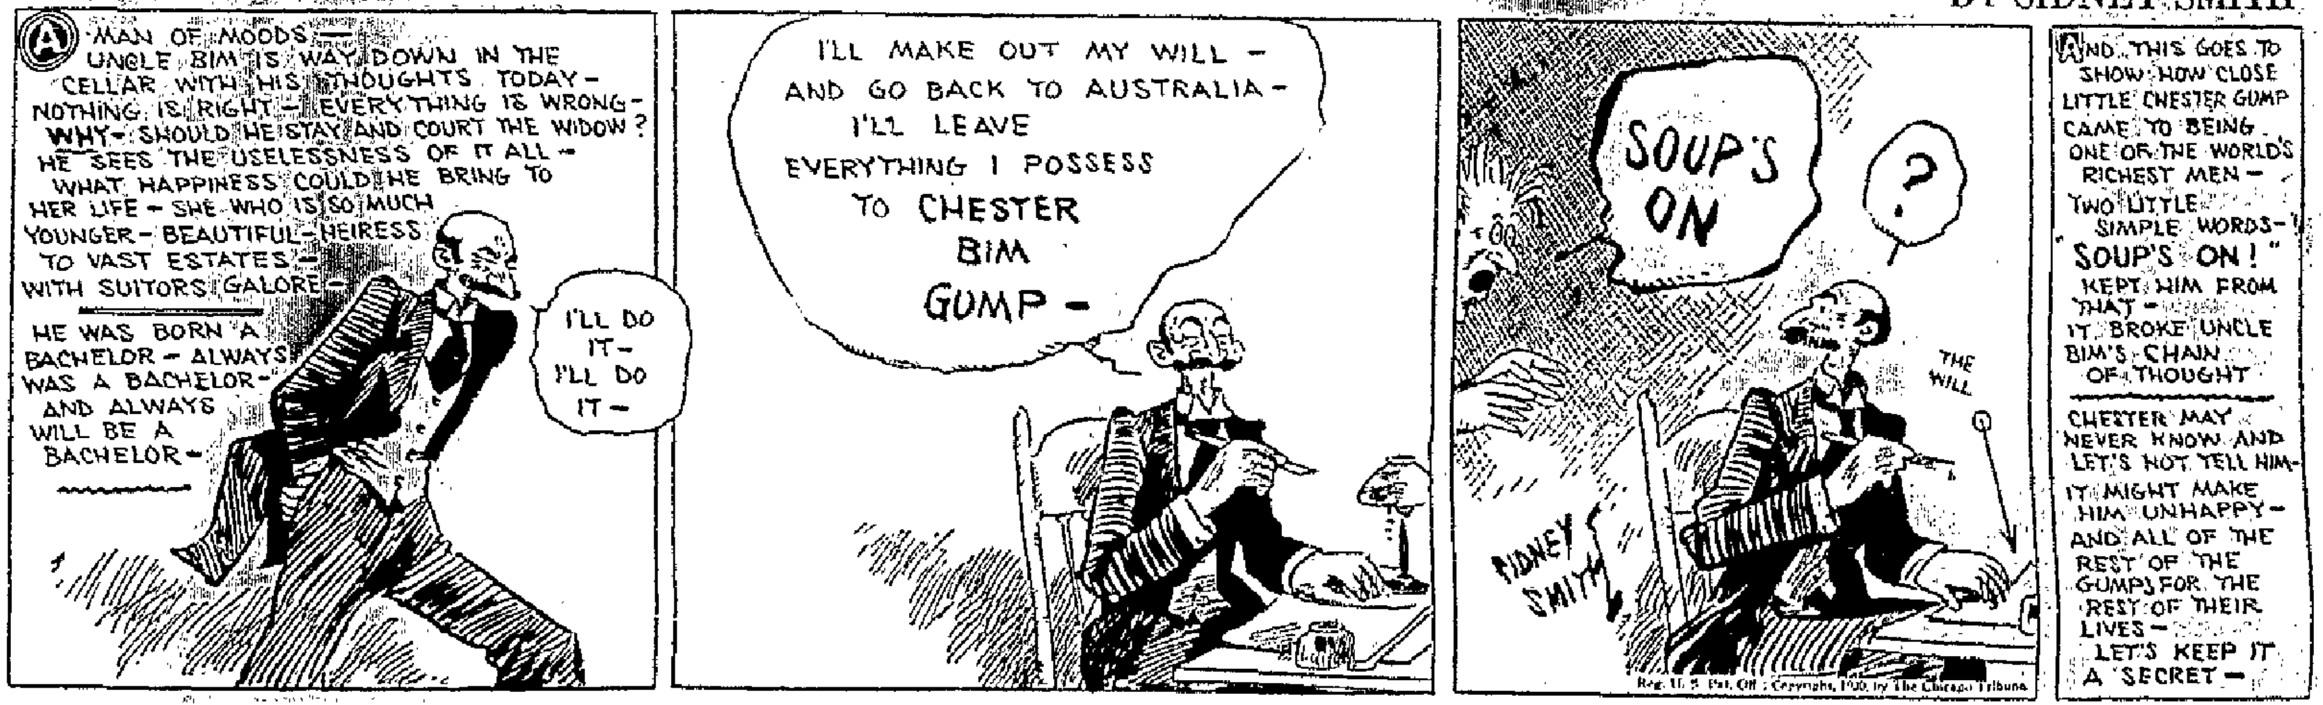
THE GUMPS

BY SIDNEY SMITH



A MAN OF MOODS— UNCLE BIM IS WAY DOWN IN THE CELLAR WITH HIS THOUGHTS TODAY—NOTHING IS RIGHT—EVERYTHING IS WRONG—WHY—SHOULD HE STAY AND COURT THE WIDOW? HE SEES THE USELESSNESS OF IT ALL—WHAT HAPPINESS COULD HE BRING TO HER LIFE—SHE WHO IS SO MUCH YOUNGER—BEAUTIFUL—HEIRESS TO VAST ESTATES—WITH SUITORS GALORE—
HE WAS BORN A BACHELOR—ALWAYS WAS A BACHELOR—AND ALWAYS WILL BE A BACHELOR—
I'LL DO IT—I'LL DO IT—
I'LL MAKE OUT MY WILL—AND GO BACK TO AUSTRALIA—I'LL LEAVE EVERYTHING I POSSESS TO CHESTER BIM GUMP—SOUP'S ON
THE WILL
SIDNEY SMITH
AND THIS GOES TO SHOW HOW CLOSE LITTLE CHESTER GUMP CAME TO BEING ONE OF THE WORLD'S RICHEST MEN—TWO LITTLE SIMPLE WORDS—"SOUP'S ON!" KEPT HIM FROM THAT—IT BROKE UNCLE BIM'S CHAIN OF THOUGHT
CHESTER MAY NEVER KNOW AND LET'S NOT TELL HIM—IT MIGHT MAKE HIM UNHAPPY—AND ALL OF THE REST OF THE GUMPS FOR THE REST OF THEIR LIVES—LET'S KEEP IT A SECRET—

WHADDEYE MEAN "WE'LL ENJOY THE ROAST"? NOBODY INVITED YOU!
I KNOW YOU HAVEN'T INVITED ME, BUT I NEVER STAND ON CEREMONY! JUST TELL MRS. HOOFER TO PUT TWO EXTRA PLATES ON THE TABLE!
IS TOOTS COMING OVER, TOO?
OH, NO! TOOTS WON'T BE WITH US, BUT LOAD UP THE TWO EXTRA PLATES AND I'LL EAT HER DINNER FOR HER!

STEEL STOCKS OFF AS OUTPUT DROPS

Ticker Trails Market by Nearly 30 Minutes Under Heavy Selling.

HITS FIVE MILLION GAIT

Early 1930 Leaders Fall Under Selling Pressure as Market Closes.

NEW YORK, March 12—Heavy selling of the leading industrial stocks and specialties today blocked the progress of the upward move in the stock market and forced prices downward 1 to 6 points.

With the ticker trailing the market nearly 30 minutes, transactions on the big board crossed the 2,000,000-share mark before noon, and struck the first 5,000,000-share gait since the turn of the year. Bears flooded the market with heavy offerings of U. S. Steel, Westinghouse and other popular stocks which had to be absorbed before any rally could take place. Industrial alcohol, Westinghouse, and other leaders in the early 1930 rally, were again under pressure. Industrial alcohol declining to 105, or nearly 15 points below yesterday's high price.

Steel Down

The Iron Age's report on ingot production, showing a decline of three per cent in a week to 75 per cent of capacity, slowed up the speculative demand for steel stocks. U. S. Steel dropped off three points to 179⅞.

Bethlehem lost nearly two points. Vanadium was down 2½, but recovered sharply.

Simmons Co. sold off 4½ points at 53½, the lowest price of the year; American and Foreign Power was down four points and Westinghouse down six. Losses of one to three points were sustained by DuPont, Johns Manville, American Waterworks and other active leaders. In sharp contrast was the strength and activity of the oil stocks, which rose brilliantly on the brighter outlook in the crude oil production situation.

Bonds Jump as Demand Increases

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, March 12—An active and aggressive demand for bonds, specially the rails, sent the market higher today. Call money was plentiful and inquiry dull, with the result that the 3½ percent rate appeared at noon after loans had renewed at 4.

Turnover in the early morning was on the largest scale of the year, lending support to the belief that the current strength in bonds of all descriptions had a depth not seen in some time.

* * *

Carb Market Reacts Moderately

NEW YORK, March 12—The curb market reacted moderately in the morning today, but leading shares attracted strong support after concessions of 2 points or so, and losses were reduced or cancelled by early afternoon, as short selling is a lesser factor on this market. It did not decline as sharply as the big board did during the morning break.

NEW LOWS REACHED BY CHICAGO GRAINS

General Selling Pressure, Liverpool Slump Causes Drop.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, March 12—Under pressure of general selling, wheat, corn and rye all smashed down here early today to new low price records for the current season. Demoralized market conditions at Liverpool where wheat showed an overnight drop of 4⅝ pence a bushel, was largely responsible together with reduced estimates of world import needs, as well as official announcement that for 60 days yet there was no likelihood of relief from congestion at domestic grain terminals. Opening ⅝@2¼ down, Chicago wheat futures later showed transient rallies. Corn, rye, oats and provisions weakened with wheat, corn starting 1⅝@8⅞ off and subsequently declining further.

Breaks in grain values today were in the face of big buying of May delivery of wheat here. In great degree, this purchasing appeared to come from government-sponsored agencies, and during much of the day served to keep May wheat fluctuating nervously within the unusually wide range of two cents shown at the opening. New crop deliveries, July and September, which were affected only indirectly by the support from farm board allies were somewhat weaker.

Stop-loss selling orders in profusion were forced into operation today by the swift downward swing of all grain values. Meanwhile, the Liverpool wheat market closed at as much as 5⅛ pence a bushel lower, and advices at hand said that even after severe setbacks today in prices on this side of the Atlantic export demand for wheat from North America continued slack. Reduction of estimates of world import needs for wheat were ascribed by the leading British authority to abnormal cheapness of competing foodstuffs and to the poverty of European continental consumers.

MINERS SANCTION FEDERAL CONTROL

Causes for Illinois Union's Revolt Aired in National Convention.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 12—Men from the coal mines of Illinois, who are loyal to the international organization of the United Mine Workers of America, gave their version of the Illinois union revolt before the twenty-first constitutional convention of the organization here today.

The Illinois speakers were called upon in connection with the committee on officers' reports bearing upon the Illinois situation.

Their appearance followed a dramatic speech by International President John L. Lewis late yesterday in which he scored the "rump" convention in progress at Springfield, Ill., and reviewed the international organization's actions in the disputes with officials of the Illinois organization.

For the first time in history, the United Mine Workers convention went on record as favoring federal regulation of the coal industry, which was recommended in another section of the report of the committee of officers' reports.

$10,000 LOSS FROM STORAGE SHED FIRE

Blaze Destroys Building at Alger, in Onion Marsh District.

Special To The Star

KENTON, March 12—Damage estimated at $10,000 resulted Tuesday from fire which destroyed an onion storage, drying shed and corn storage building belonging to the New York Coal Co. at Alger, west of here. The origin of the blaze is not known.

The Alger department battled for several hours to prevent the fire from spreading to nearby buildings. Approximately four car loads of yellow onions stored from last year, 15,000 onion crates, a potato grader, and 500 onion bags were destroyed.

The loss is covered by insurance, officials of the company stated today, and plans are now being shaped to rebuild. Other storage houses belonging to the New York concern, which owns 7,000 acres of land in the Scioto marsh district, are ample to take care of the company's produce until the new structures are erected.

Nineteen deaths resulted from the 230 cases of illness of which four were due to influenza, six to tuberculosis and nine pneumonia. The report shows that 75 per cent of Crawford county's rural school children were vaccinated during the year, for the purpose of controlling smallpox.

Iso-Thermic Tubes

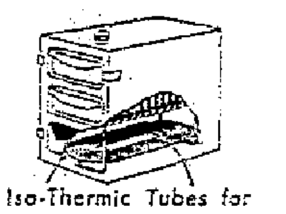
Now you can freeze ice cubes and delicious desserts faster than ever before. All new Kelvinators have special Iso-Thermic compartment (indicated by arrow)—the world's fastest freezing automatic device.



Iso-Thermic Tubes for Automatic Fast Freezing

Here is a feature that will appeal to every user of electric refrigeration—a special Kelvinator compartment that gives extra-fast freezing, automatically. Note the spiral coil of Iso-Thermic Tubes, indicated by arrows. This is, in effect, a Cold Plate, in which intense cold is concentrated. Ice cubes and desserts are frozen in half the usual time. Yet food compartments are not affected. A feature exclusive to Kelvinator and standard equipment on all 1930 Kelvinator models.

FOR 15 years, Kelvinator engineers have striven to make electric refrigeration more trouble-free, more automatic, more complete in the service it renders to users.

The results of this policy are evident in a first inspection of the new Super-Automatic Kelvinators now available in a wide range of self-contained models.

Iso-Thermic Tubes, for example, are found only in the new Kelvinators. Built around a special freezing tray, this new device automatically starts freezing operations when a tray of water or dessert is placed within. Ice cubes and frozen desserts are prepared in record time. There is nothing to watch or regulate.

But Kelvinator design carefully keeps this extreme cold in its right place. A separate temperature—scientifically correct for proper preservation of foods—is automatically maintained in the food compartments. Thus, food cannot be spoiled through freezing or too high a temperature.

With all their improvements in fully automatic operation and in far finer cabinet designs, the new Kelvinators are most moderately priced. See them today and learn how easily you may enjoy this modern refrigeration service now through Kelvinator's attractive ReDisCo monthly budget plan.

HIGH BID TO GET HIX MURDER CAR

Dr. Snook's Machine To Be Auctioned Off by Columbus Sheriff's Deputy.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., March 12 — Franklin county next Monday will sell the dark blue coupe in which Theora Hix, former Ohio State university co-ed, rode to her death on the New York Central rifle range last June 13, the night she was slain, to the highest bidder.

Ross Anderson, execution deputy in the office of Sheriff Harry Paul, will auction the car to the highest bidder on the seventeenth day after Dr. James H. Snook, former Ohio State penitentiary professor, was executed. Dr. Snook died in the electric chair at Ohio penitentiary Feb. 28.

The coupe had been driven only 1,500 miles at the time it was seized, and is undamaged except where a small piece of upholstery was removed for analysis of blood stains that aided in sending Dr. Snook to the chair.

The proceeds, together with $11 which Dr. Snook had with him at the time of his arrest, two days after the murder, will be turned over to county authorities to help defray expenses of the prosecution.

MERGER CONFERENCE IN CLOSING STAGE

Failure Indicated as Steel Proposal Goes Before Ohio Corporation Directors.

By The Associated Press

YOUNGSTOWN, March 12—Merger with the Bethlehem Steel Co. was before directors of the Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co., today with all indications pointing to failure at the outset.

An all-day conference of steel leaders in Cleveland yesterday was considered a last-minute effort to overcome Ohio opposition to the consolidation and although there was no announcement, it was believed opponents of the merger had won out.

Cyrus S. Eaton, Cleveland financier who has attempted to include the Youngstown company in the recently created Republic Steel corporation, declined to make a statement but his bearing indicated his interests had halted the merger.

Eaton's demeanor, the departure for New York of Eugene C. Grace, president of Bethlehem, and the length of the conference all seemingly bore out earlier assertions that it would be impossible at the present to obtain the necessary consent of two-thirds of the holders of Sheet & Tube's 1,200,000 shares of stock. More than 500,000 shares are owned by opponents of the merger, it was reported.

Eaton was believed to have been joined by local and Cleveland stockholders who contend that this area would suffer if Sheet & Tube were consolidated with an eastern concern and that the reported offer of four Bethlehem shares for three of the Youngstown company was too low.

But whatever decision was reached at Cleveland, no final action was expected today. A decision to leave the matter to stockholders while awaiting a higher bid from Bethlehem was considered possible.

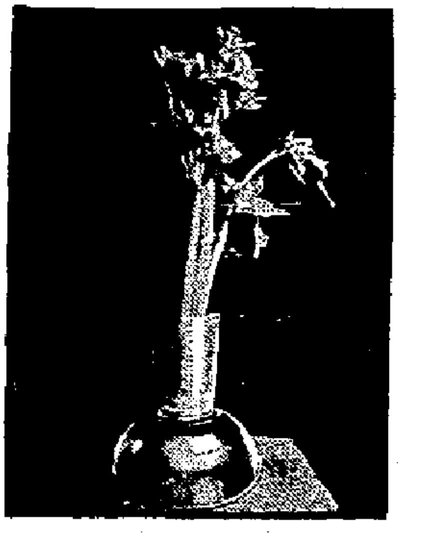
The latest household cabinets in gleaming Porcelain-on-steel will be on display.

The famous "Frigidaire Cold Control" will also be demonstrated. You will be shown how this device freezes ice faster—how it permits you to make scores of unusual desserts that require extreme cold.

Free dessert and salad recipe books

And we'll give you an opportunity to taste the better dishes made possible by the Hydrator and the "Cold Control." A cooking expert will prepare and serve unusual salads and frozen desserts during the entire period of the demonstration. And we've arranged to distribute two souvenir recipe books.

Actual photograph of stalk of celery before being placed in the Hydrator. This celery is tough, unpalatable, useless.



The same celery as it came from the Hydrator the following morning. The magic action of the Hydrator has restored the celery to its original state—fresh, crisp, delicious.

The Stars Say—

For Wednesday, March 12

THE planetary configurations for this day point to sudden occurrences of a disruptive and devastating nature. Unplanned change may be abruptly precipitated, incited or aggravated by a tendency to rash, impulsive and turbulent personal behavior. There may be many trying and vexatious conditions to cope with.

Those whose birthday it is are confronted by a year of sudden, possibly disruptive change, with much commotion and vexation unless a firm attitude of equanimity and self-control be preserved. Avoid much impervious and passionate words and acts.

A child born on this day may be quick and tempestuous, inclined to adventure and sudden reaction.

AIR VISITOR

Pilot Makes Mysterious Call at Vernon Heights

An Eaglerock biplane landed at Vernon Heights late yesterday afternoon and two hours later took off again before anyone could learn the pilot's mission.

It bore a Niles, Mich., firm name on the fuselage.

Reduce the Acid

In sick stomachs—instantly

Sick stomachs, sour stomachs and indigestion usually mean excess acid. The stomach nerves are over-stimulated. Too much acid makes the stomach and intestines sour.

Alkali kills acid instantly. The best form is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia, because one harmless, tasteless does neutralizes many times its volume in acid. Since its invention, 50 years ago, it has remained the standard with physicians everywhere.

Take a spoonful in water and your unhappy condition will probably end in five minutes. Then you will always know what to do. Crude and harmful methods will never appeal to you. Go prove this for your own sake. It may save a great many disagreeable hours.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drugstore.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.—Adv.

Sundberg Talks on "Isms" at Meeting of Teachers

Springfield Minister Discusses Materialism, Animalism, Rationalism, Atheism; Speaker Defends Youth and Denies World Is Going to Dogs.

Materialism, animalism, rationalism and atheism are the tendencies of the times, declared Dr. C. A. Sundberg, of Springfield, in an address before the Marion City Teachers association last night in Central Junior High school. Dr. Samuel Harden Church, president of Carnegie Institute, and Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia university, companionate marriage and evolution came in for scathing remarks from this minister-lecturer, and almost in the same breath he praised modern youth and laughed at the idea that the world is going to the dogs.

He opened his address by saying that teachers and preachers are closely related, in that a preacher must also be a teacher, and that a teacher in the schools must also be a preacher.

Spirit of Times

In answer to his question, "What are some outstanding tendencies of the times?" Dr. Sundberg began by saying that the "spirit of the world is one of materialism—gimme, gimme, getting."

Boys and girls will have to be taught that there is something higher than materialism, he declared.

In a tirade on companionate marriage he denounced it as animalism, contaminating marriage, and a "barn yard" arrangement. Continuing to another of his pet subjects he said:

"I object to the teaching of evolution as a fact. It is not a fact, it is a theory, and I challenge anyone to prove that it is anything but a theory.

"It is better that we teach that we are created in the likeness of God, looking up toward heaven, than evolution, looking downward, into the slime," he declared.

Dr. Sundberg believes that the people are aiming too low. Lofty purposes and high aims are what America needs.

Speaking of the third "ism" in the tendencies, Dr. Sundberg expressed the sentiment with a recently coined word, "Speluncolist." A speluncolist is someone who knows more and more about less and less." It was at this point in his address that he spoke of Dr. Church and Dr. Butler.

The difference between knowledge and wisdom is that wisdom is the right use of knowledge and the difference between wisdom and enlightenment is that enlightenment is the right use of education, in Dr. Sundberg's opinion.

Atheism came in as the last of the four isms. "There are very few people in the world who are atheists," Dr. Sundberg said. "Pin them down and they aren't. There is an inborn thing in our heart that tells us there is a Supreme Being."

Dr. Sundberg, who has earned the name of "Sunny" Sundberg, scattered jokes and stories through his address. He is pastor of Second Lutheran church, Springfield.

A half hour musical program by high school students preceded the address. Mrs. Ferne West, president of the association, announced the coming of Mrs. Percy V. Pennybacker, nationally known woman, April 11.

Lecturer Reports on O. S. U. Short Course for Members

Mrs. C. E. Myers, lecturer, gave a report on the short course for grange lecturers, held at Ohio State university recently, at which she received a diploma, at the meeting of Grand Prairie Grange, No. 2370, last night. Miss Maude Hill gave an interesting history of the grange from the time of its organization in 1923 to the present time. The program included ukelele duets and selections on the cello and guitar by Paul Stewart and Howard Foster. Plans were made for a special meeting March 21 and the next regular meeting March 25 at which time the first and second degrees will be conferred on a class of candidates. Six applications were received and four balloted on at last night's session.

TO SHOW PICTURE

A picture, "Health, Happiness and Hogs," will be presented by Carl E. Simon, of Mansfield, at the meeting of members of Bethlehem grange, No. 1036, Friday night at the grange hall. The program will include music and readings by the grange members.

MONUMENT PLANNED FOR GRAVE OF TAFT

Will Be Selected by Widow and Children; Simplicity To Be Theme.

By the Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 12— The tomb of William Howard Taft will be marked for posterity with a memorial shaft befitting the high place he held in the heart of the American people.

The monument is to be selected by Mrs. Taft and their three children, who chose the sylvan nook in Arlington National cemetery in which the man who was president and chief justice is now at rest.

Simplicity is to be the dominant characteristic of the marker, a simplicity that will be imposing but far removed from the severe, with an inscription telling in unaffected language of the greatness of the one who lies beneath.

With guns booming a requiem, with President Hoover and the mighty of the government standing reverently by and with platoons from the army, the navy and the marine corps drawn up in last salute for one who had been their commander-in-chief, the body of the dead president was lowered slowly yesterday as the day was drawing to a close.

Then, as the volleys echoed and died across the broad fields of Arlington, came the soft clear notes of the bugle, sounding "taps," and the sky, thick with clouds and falling rain throughout the day, brightened, a bit of blue appeared, and a soft ray of light played about the top of the Washington monument and the spires of the city, hazily visible across the broad Potomac.

PAYS IN PENNIES

Savings to Apply on Auto Purchase Go to Settle Fine

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, Mich., March 12 — Victor Clevers, 18, truck driver, was saving pennies to buy an automobile. According to conservative estimates, he would have been able to purchase a small car in about 25 years.

But Victor was haled into court for speeding. He knew how he was going to plead and assumed correctly that the fine would be $20. So he took 2050 pennies with him in a bag, 50 extra in case of a mistaken count.

Judge Sherman D. Callender yesterday announced the $20 fine and then ruled that pennies were acceptable.

Victor was set back eight months in his quest of a car. He had saved 3,000 pennies in a year.

It required 12 minutes to count the fine money.

Evil books scarcely live as long as the indignation they arouse.

Officials Honest, but Weak on Mathematics

By the Associated Press

COLUMBUS, March 12—Fayette county township officials are honest, but they are a little shy in their arithmetic, especially addition, according to a report of examination of those offices filed with the state bureau of accounting today by Examiner Thomas W. Jones.

The only findings for recovery were occasioned by mistakes in addition and totalled only $9.16. The report covered the period Sept. 15, 1927, to Dec. 31, 1929.

THINK OF YOUR AUTOMOBILE IN TERMS OF TOMORROW

Ultimate cost is as important as first cost in the purchase of an automobile

WHEN you purchase an automobile you are making an investment of a considerable amount of money. It is essential, therefore, that you give careful thought to the best selection and know what you are getting for your automobile dollars.

The first cost is important because it may mean an immediate, satisfactory saving. Of equal importance is the ultimate cost after thousands of miles of service. This ultimate cost is the true measure of automobile value.

THE first cost of the new Ford is unusually low not only because of economies in manufacturing, but because the same principles that inspire these savings are extended to every other step that means greater service to the public. It is easy to see that economies in production would be of little value if they were sacrificed later through high charges for distribution, selling, financing and accessories.

The Ford dealer, therefore, does business on the same low-profit margin as the Ford Motor Company. His discount or commission is twenty-five to fifty per cent lower than that of any other automobile dealer. You gain because he makes a small profit on many sales instead of a large profit on fewer sales.

The difference in selling cost, combined with the low charges for financing and accessories, amounts to at least $50 to $75 on each car. This is as important as economies in production in keeping down the price you pay for the new Ford.

THE low ultimate cost of the new Ford is the result of sound design, quality of material and unusual care in manufacturing. Friction and wear are reduced by the accuracy with which each part is made and assembled.

These factors combine to decrease the cost of operation and add months and years to the useful life of the car. The good performance and low yearly depreciation of the new Ford are indicative of the enduring quality built into it at the factory.

SERVICE charges are on the same fair, economical basis as the making and selling of the car and replacement parts are always available at low prices through all Ford dealers. In two, three or five years, depending on how much you drive, the saving in operating and maintaining a new Ford will amount to even more than the saving on the first cost.

Think in terms of tomorrow, therefore, when you purchase an automobile. For tomorrow will reveal its true worth.

In all, some three dozen women presented their statements.

Mrs. Vic Donahey, the wife of the former governor of Ohio, said that her state is "squarely for prohibition and law enforcement, will support and honor with high office only those who are willing to do their duty in these important matters."

Representative Ruth Bryan Owen, of Florida, reaffirmed the platform on which she was elected to the house, pledging herself to "uphold the constitution of the United States and the amendments thereto."

Representing the Federation of Foreign Mission Board of North America, Mrs. F. I. Johnson said:

"We are not a church 'lobby.' We are compelled, however, to combat persistent unending lobby of men pledged to the liquor traffic for their own gain or their own destruction."

The president of the Council of Women for Home Missions, Mrs. Orrin R. Judd, emphasized the necessity of preserving the sacredness of the constitution and laws, particularly as an example to aliens, Indians and negroes.

Seen As Child Aid

Strict and impartial enforcement of the eighteenth amendment was described as a "child welfare measure," by Mrs. William Tilton, national chairman of legislation for the national congress of parents and teachers.

Mrs. William H. Alexander, of Ohio, discredited charges that the eighteenth amendment is responsible for crime and lawlessness and said "we believe that the success already attained in the short space of 10 years in prohibition enforcement is the greatest moral miracle of the age."

From Seattle, Wash., came the statement of Bertha K. Landes, former mayor of that city, holding that the prohibition law can be enforced "reasonably" in the same proportion as other restricted laws.

CHARGE DISMISSED

Children Agree to Provide for Father's Support

The non-support charge filed in municipal court against Roy Powelson, Marion rural route No. 6, charging failure to contribute to the support of his father, has been dismissed by a journal entry of Judge William R. Martin, which provides for the support of the father.

Roy Powelson and his brother are each to pay $1.50 a week toward the support of their father, and a sister is to furnish clothing, according to the terms of the entry. The name of the father is Charles E. Powelson.

Municipal court officials indicated that another suit charging non-support of a father filed against Frank Ravencraft will probably be settled and dismissed.

In this action, Mrs. Mae Stumbo, a sister, charges Frank Ravencraft with failure to support his father since July 1, 1929. He pleaded not guilty to the charge, and is to be given hearing on March 18. He was released on his own recognizance.

Daily Proverb—"When fortune's chariot rolls easily, envy and shame cling to the wheels."

The slayer of a federal dry agent down in San Antonio, Texas, drew a prison sentence of seven years. Little enough for a slayer, whether he be wet or dry.

Sidney Franklin, the Brooklyn matador, killed four bulls in the Valencia bull-ring, Sunday, killing two after they had gored the Spanish matadors engaging them. Who dare say that America lags behind Europe in culture?

A New York wire says the palm garden of the Leviathan will be transformed into a night club, which will be in operation when she sails eastward, April 12. But what will there be in a night club free from the operations of gangsters and gunmen and without an occasional dry raid to afford a thrill?

Secretary Mellon announces that the treasury's offering of three-and-a-quarter per cent. treasury certificates has been oversubscribed. When the treasury can borrow at that figure, it's fairly safe to take it that the recent trading orgy in Wall Street is at an end.

The Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America is out in opposition to the use of the injunction against peaceful picketing. As a evidence of good faith the council should cite a case of peaceful picketing in any recent strike of any considerable duration.

Germany has notified soviet Russia that it will hold the bolshevik government responsible hereafter for political propaganda and plots carried on in Germany by the Communist International. Why not? The Russian fiction, that the soviet government and the International are separate and apart, has been exploded so repeatedly that even a government of the colossal stupidity of the Russian should cease to employ it.

A Little Optimism Might Pay.

Within the past few days Secretary of Labor Davis has stated that the number of persons employed in the country at present is from 600,000 to 1,000,000 greater than early in the year and that the unemployed do not exceed those of a year ago by over 1,250,000, possibly not by over 1,000,000. There has been also the assurance of Secretary of Commerce Lamont that the $7,000,000,000 program of construction work which is expected to help relieve the unemployment condition is being speeded to the utmost by federal and state governments and private public utility companies.

It may be held that the labor secretary's statement was unduly optimistic; that he was seeing the situation through glasses of a somewhat rosy tint, and that the commerce secretary's assurance was not sufficiently specific to be convincing. Whatever view may be taken concerning the utterances of the two secretaries, the absolute sincerity and good faith of neither secretary can be questioned, nor can that of President Hoover, who this week strengthened their predictions of better days ahead in his statement in which he held that the unemployment crisis had passed, that business is reviving and fixed the time for the passing of the worst effects of last fall's crash within the next sixty days.

"All the evidences indicate," said the president in his summary of the reports made to him by Secretary Davis and Secretary Lamont, "that the worst effects of the crash upon employment will have been passed during the next sixty days with the amelioration of seasonal unemployment; the gaining strength of other forces, and the continued cooperation of the many agencies actively cooperating with the government to restore business and to relieve distress."

It is not to be thought that the president would have spoken as quoted without facts and figures before him which he felt justified such an utterance. It may be noted that he said this recession from the effects of the crash upon employment was indicated by "all the evidences," which can not be held to mean other than that there was an absence of evidence in support of a contrary view.

The president and the two secretaries have spoken in like vein. It seems to us that such statements as theirs should carry conviction regarding the improvement in the employment situation.

No doubt the dilatory handling by congress of the tariff bill is in part responsible for the apparent feeling of uncertainty concerning business conditions in the near future. Congress has puttered along for ten months, now, in its consideration of the bill—an inexcusable waste of time—but even so, is not a lack of confidence a contributing factor in producing this feeling of uncertainty? Would it not be good business to supplant some of this present-day pessimism with a little optimism?

High Wages and Low Costs.

The Ford contention, that the unit of cost in mass production is lowered by high wages and increased by low, has been demonstrated to the complete satisfaction of the Ford Motor Company, Limited, which controls the widely-separated Ford plants in Europe.

Having adopted a system by which the time it takes a worker in each of the company's factories to perform a fixed piece of work, comparisons of the unit costs in its various plants, located in England, Ireland, Holland, France, Belgium, Germany, Denmark, Sweden, Italy, Spain, Finland and Turkey, could be made, as the native workmen in their respective countries are doing the same work, with similar tools and under equal factory conditions.

A survey made under the direction of Sir Percival Perry, chairman of the company's board, and reported by him at the annual meeting of the company last week, showed the lowest production cost was in the Denmark plant, where the company paid the highest wages in Europe, and the highest production cost was in Belgium where the lowest wages paid by the company obtained.

Probably a more significant demonstration of the influence of wages on production cost was had in Belgium, where, in adjusting wages to secure the uniformity of payment desired, it was found necessary substantially to increase the minimum wages in the Antwerp factory. The result was quickly noticeable. The response of the workers was almost immediate, being evidenced by a marked reduction of the production cost.

Sir Percival assured his board that the comparisons made were not of the "flash in the pan" variety; that week after week and month after month, the figures from all their factories confirmed the Ford theory. "With such an experience," he told the board, "I am confident we have your fullest approval of our industrial policies."

And Sir Percival told his company something else. He stated that the survey, on which he made his report had demonstrated that the American wage-earner is no miracle worker; that he is in no way the superior as an artisan of the European. "Given like conditions and treatment," he said, "our workers here in Europe actually beat their American cousins, as is proved by the standard of our minute costs." It may be well to explain that the "minute cost" is the unit of reckoning production cost under the system.

What will be the probable result of this showing by the Ford company? In the face of this demonstration that the European worker, receiving the equivalent of the high American wage, supplied with the same up-to-date tools and working under the same factory conditions, can produce in as great volume as the American worker, will other European industries be at all inclined to cling to their low wage scales, their, in many cases, antiquated plants and obsolete machinery? Hardly. With the equivalent of Detroit minimum of seven dollars a day being paid in all the factories the European Ford company already has or soon will have, in seventeen European countries, it can hardly be long till European industrialists will awaken to the fact that high wages mean high production and low production costs, and when they have learned that, European industry will attain such a development as it has never before experienced.

What will be the effect of this quickening of European industry on American industry is another matter.

When a Brooklyn store opened the morning after it had advertised 15,000 dresses at a dollar each and hats, coats and other wearing apparel at proportionate prices, twenty-five women were caught in the rush and injured. Man is just as much his sister's keeper as his brother's, and such being the case no store has any business staging a riot like that.

No matter which of her two altimeter records may be accepted, it is evident that Elinor Smith has bested by over a mile the woman's altitude record. Some feat for a young girl, who may be said to be little more than a beginner in the aviation field.

A jury at White Plains, New York, has returned a verdict of $500,000 damages in favor of a woman plaintiff, who sought $1,000,000 for the alienation of her husband's affection. The man in the case, if we are to judge by the verdict, shouldn't have much difficulty in connecting up with the movies as the world's greatest lover.

Gif. Pinchot has announced his entrance into the Pennsylvania primary for the Republican gubernatorial nomination. Dependence may always be placed in the Hon. Gifford to rush in and complicate the political situation, no matter what it may be.

As an evidence of the impetus federal funds have given American ship construction, it may be said that ninety-four vessels, twenty-nine of them liners, are already under way. It is evident that all that was necessary to give us a merchant marine was just such a degree of encouragement as has been given the merchant marines by other governments.

Another wealthy married resident of Chicago has been sued for breach of promise, the plaintiff being a young widow, who places her damages at $100,000, regardless of her alleged maintenance by him in fine apartments and the receipt of many costly gifts. One of these days the adventurous of the so-called weaker sex are liable to discover that this breach-of-promise game has been overplayed.

Apropos of the possibility that President Hoover may offer Mr. Coolidge the place on the United States supreme bench made vacant by the death of Justice Sanford, our guess is that Mr. Coolidge would not accept it. The situation would be different were the chief justiceship open, but one who has been head of the executive branch of the government would hardly be attracted by a secondary place in another branch. Anyway, Calvin has not yet had that two years of "whittling."

RUSSIA—A. D. 1930.

Health Value of Water.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

Water is about the most important of all the substances found in the body. It is indispensable to health and life can not be sustained without it.

We take too much as a matter of course the many blessings bestowed upon us. For instance, how little we realize the immense importance to us of the bountiful and pure water supplies brought to the doors of great communities for our benefit.

The great engineers have found the means to bring water miles and miles under the most efficient methods. The Roman water aqueducts of the ancients were not so wonderful as some of the immense modern aqueducts which bring water to some of our great cities.

These great water supplies are guarded on every hand. The region from which they come must be safeguarded from impurity of any sort. The springs and streams, the reservoirs and every inch of the territory over which the water comes are all under constant supervision. We derive the benefit.

The life processes of the body throw off poisons through the kidneys, bowels and skin. The kidneys are the chief agents of elimination.

The blood requires a continuous stream of water. If it does not get the right amount otherwise, it absorbs water from the intestine and other tissues. In this way it receives poisons also. The bowels are left dry and constipated.

The body throws off much water. Of this two-tenths is thrown off by the lungs in vapor, three-tenth as perspiration, and five-tenths in the urine and feces, the latter being waste material from the bowels. Because of chemical changes in the body, additional water is produced so that at times a person passes off more than he takes in.

An adult person requires at least a quart of water daily. Now, of course, some water is taken in through food and drink. Today very generally the custom is to take a lot of water in drinking tea and coffee. But do not forget that drinking pure, cold, not too cold, water is one of the most beneficial habits one can have.

Water is the basis of all the fluids of the body, as well as being an element in all the solid tissues. Perspiration, urine, the blood, milk, and the gastric juices of digestion are composed almost entirely of water. As I have said, much water is thrown off by the skin and the kidneys. The free drinking of water washes away the waste products and the solid matter of the body. It is quite probable that drinking much water prevents the formation of kidney stones.

If we want to live healthy, happy lives, we must partake of nature's foods and drink. We must refurnish the body with water lost through the function of elimination. It is much better to drink between meals than to eat and drink much at the same meal. There is needed proper mastication of the food, and drinking too much water interferes with this process.

Editorial Opinion.

CAUSE OF BUSINESS FAILURES.

Most people who fail in business have no one but themselves to blame for their trouble, so it is claimed by the Yale institute of human relations. Approval is given that statement by Federal Judge William Clark, of New Jersey, and a number of experts from the department of commerce at Washington. The report was written after an inspection and study of all the records filed by retail stores that failed during recent months in New Jersey. The study was made at the request of the department of commerce.

It was the verdict of all examiners that more than seventy-five per cent. of the failures could have been averted had there been modern methods used and proper management provided. The most simple standards of business management and conduct would have kept these business men out of the bankrupt court and their lines of business could have run on with perfect safety. But it was impossible for business houses, forced to meet sharp competition, to remain alive when all ordinary business safeguards and precautions were ignored and inefficient management directed affairs.

The examiners placed much blame on manufacturers and wholesalers for overextension of credit without investigation of methods and a study of the business seeking the credit. In some instances retailers were tremendously overloaded, had no methods for discounting their bills or caring for them in the right way. These houses were merely floating with the tide, it was only a matter of time until there was an upset.

If the wholesalers kept in close touch with the business affairs of their customers, if they insisted on right business methods being followed, there would be a marked reduction in the number of failures, so these examiners reported. House after house was shown to have been decrepit and unbusinesslike for years, but, apparently, the wholesalers had no information of these conditions. There was a pointed recommendation that manufacturers and wholesalers interest themselves in prevention of trouble, by keeping in close touch with actual conditions in the houses of their customers.—Ohio State Journal.

SPEAKING OF "DEALS."

The friends and champions of the Cuban sugar growers and manufacturers are taking the senate reversal of its position on the sugar tariff very hard indeed. Those members of the clique who possess seats in the senate chamber are now talking loudly about a "deal" and are trying to lash themselves into a state of fury which will pass muster with the country as a condition of righteous indignation.

But there are certain obstacles in their way, and one big difficulty consists of the fact that the wailers find themselves in the position of the devil rebuking sin. They themselves are under suspicion of being concerned in a program of a far from creditable nature or, at the least, of having allowed themselves to be gulled lamentably by those engineering it.

For weeks and months some of these men have been standing forth as champions of a piece of legislation that would completely ruin the domestic sugar business if it should be finally passed, and at the same time would destroy a farm crop which has become exceedingly valuable to the agriculturists of several states, including the state of Michigan.

The beneficiaries of such an action would be exclusively a group of monopolists operating in a foreign country who can produce and refine their product at a cost impossible for Americans to meet, because they are able to employ peon labor at peon wages.

These interests, there is every reason to assume from experience in the past, would at once fix prices to suit themselves should they get in the saddle in the American market and find all competition eliminated by special legislation passed for their benefit.

It seems to us that the gentlemen in the senate who deliberately or blindly have been playing the game of scheming personages with factories and plantations in Cuba, and have been doing everything in their power to prevent anything from interfering with the plans for giving the aforesaid personages a strangle hold on the American consumer, are now showing an appalling nerve and considerable shamelessness in rising to talk about a "deal" by senators who are merely trying to preserve the American public from a monumental gouge.—Detroit Free Press.

The Cosmic Pattern.

BY ARCHIBALD HENDERSON.

Science is a subject which continually thrusts toward orderliness and classification. We can not properly understand or scientifically study things until we know, precisely, the category in which they belong. In astronomy this need has been more acutely felt in recent years. The appearance of the sky, with the numerous stars, comets, planets, star-clusters, globular clusters, spiral nebulae, island universes, binary stars, cepheid variables and so on, appears to be a vast welter of disorganization and chaotic variety.

An attempt has recently been made by Professor Harlow Shapley, director of the Harvard College observatory, to bring a high degree of order out of this variegated chaos. He has sought to show that everything visible to us, either by the naked eye, through the microscope or through the telescope, is subject to this vast new classification, finally rounding out into the Einsteinian conception of the four-dimensional space-time complex. Toward the end of his classification he realizes the possibility, nay, the probability, of categories not yet defined or fully realized. At the end of his division he would leave a suggestive blank, to be filled in later as the result of future investigations. This procedure may be regarded as at once "a confession of ignorance and a confession of faith." Perhaps, he suggests, the blank will some day be filled in with the word "Mind."

In his classification Shapley proceeds from the minute to the vast, from the microcosm to the macrocosm. In the microcosmos come first the electrons and the protons, the electrical constituents of matter. Next come the atoms, of which there are known to be ninety-two—although two have not yet been discovered, their existence is not a matter of doubt. It is even suspected there may be extra-galactic atoms, which have not yet been discovered and are not positively known to exist.

Next we have the families of atoms, so to speak, which the physicists and chemists term molecules, and beyond these lie another category known as molecular aggregates. The fifth and final division in the micocosmos is represented by colloidal and crystallis aggregates with two sub-divisions: inorganic and organic substances. Man is an entry, among countless others, of this second sub-division. "The human being," says Shapley, "is an interesting but incidental, phase of the cosmic process, but that need not detract from his importance as a comprehending individual. We are colloids."

Our very bodies consist of the same chemical elements found in the most distant nebulae and our activities are guided by the same universal rules.

In the divisions of the macrocosmos, the categories are much more numerous. We have first the meteors. Then the moons or satellitic systems within the solar system. Next came a higher form of organization, the planetary systems. Follow next the systems of double and multiple stars. Galactic clusters—such as the Pleiades—constitute the next higher form of organization. More complex still are the globular clusters, and after these the star clouds, of which the "Magellanic Clouds" are typical. Next the supergalaxies, of which our Milky Way is an appropriate example. Many of these gigantic cosmic organizations have been discovered within recent years. Their discovery has extended our estimate of the diameter of the visible universe to about 2,500,000,000,000,000,000,000 miles.—Copyright, 1930, International Feature Service, Inc.

TRUCK WRECKED BY BROADWAY LIMITED

Driver of Machine Jumps to Safety as Engine Stalls on Tracks.

Special To The Star

BUCYRUS, March 12—A huge fruit truck, property of a Mansfield fruit dealer, was reduced to splinters and fruit strewn over a large territory at 6:30 o'clock last night when an eastbound Pennsylvania Broadway limited struck the truck at the Sandusky av. crossing. The engine of the car stalled in the path of the train. The driver of the truck, seeing that the crash could not be averted, jumped to safety and was uninjured.

Fragments of the truck and varieties of fruit were carried down the track for 500 feet. Two of the huge wheels of the truck were thrown into a parked car belonging to Mrs. Emma Soltz, puncturing the gasoline tank and knocking off a bumper and damaging the car to a considerable extent. A piece of the truck was thrown through a plate glass window at the Metcalf barber shop, where it caused considerable damage.

The train proceeded after the engine of the truck, which was dragged beneath the engine of the train by the crash, was removed.

Candy Not Forbidden
TO THE FAT

No need to deny yourself all good things because you overweigh. Modern physicians do not advise starvation. They know the dangers of it. They know that people who are over-fat have generally an under-active gland. So they supply the factor, for lack of which too much food goes to fat.

This modern method is the basis of Marmola prescription tablets. These tablets were perfected, and are prepared, by a famous medical laboratory. A book in each box states the formula and explains the reasons for results.

For 22 years Marmola has held the top place in its field. Millions of boxes have been used in fighting fat. The people who gained new youth and beauty, new health and vigor, have told others. Now the results are seen everywhere. Excess fat has largely disappeared.

There is usually no excuse for an abnormal figure and the dangers which go with it. If the cause is an under-active gland, Marmola is the right way to combat it. For 22 years, countless people have been learning what it does.

Go try Marmola and learn what they have learned. Read the book in the box, then do as directed. Take four tablets a day. When you see that results are coming, go on and complete them. You owe that to your future. Start today.

Marmola prescription tablets are sold by all druggists at $1 a box. Any druggist who is out will gladly order for you.

A STORY OF LOVE AND LIFE IN HOLLYWOOD

CHAPTER 27

JOHN ANDREW mentally added [illegible]—the amount he [illegible] the silver brushes, [illegible] which had only [illegible] over 30 cents—[illegible] legerdemain [illegible] the total more [illegible]—$7.00 for dinner. [illegible]

[illegible] he said, "but [illegible] you—for $7 she [illegible] anything she [illegible] anything and every-[illegible] Except peche Melba [illegible]—I never [illegible] a girl who was [illegible]

John Andrew de-[illegible] competent word, unless [illegible] other things. Re-[illegible], adoration, and—[illegible]—an earthly desire. You couldn't figure it [illegible] and that was the end. The Consolidated [illegible] agreed in full just as [illegible] $500 to San Fran-[illegible] was intelligent [illegible] know that whoever was [illegible] would certainly not [illegible] same game twice, although he did not understand exactly what Blake and the attorneys he had obviously consulted were up to. The money would be sent just as soon as the Mercury could be sold—tomorrow. The matter of the hotel bill be discussed. When the Mercury was sold the hotel would get their money. Next step, with no chance of the Consolidated deal falling through and the check perfected, would be to wire Cratz. Then Anne. Next——

"What will you do now?" Anne asked. "Promote something else?"

"I'm no promoter. I'm—well—"

"You've never told me anything," Anne tried to lead him on. "All I know about you is that I saw you in a New York boarding house, and on the train, and——"

"Take off your hat," said John Andrew. "You look sweet when the wind blows your hair, little Anne—that's going to be a good Scotch name for you, isn't it? Anne Kellogg. Good sound."

"And you don't know anything about me." Which, the girl felt, was only a continuation of her first question.

Practical John Andrew said, "I know you. Isn't that enough?" And so, without deliberately intending to do it, prevented any further inquisition.

Anne let her head droop to John Andrew's shoulder. "There can't be any [illegible]," she asked dreamily. "Consolidated [illegible] back out at the last minute——"

"All sewed up. Q[illegible] so suspicious. I'm not."

"It's only because I've seen things fall through many, no fault of the person who was trying to do them. Do you know, sometimes I think that wealthy people never have any trouble."

John Andrew stared at her, but said nothing.

"Wouldn't you like to have a lot of money?" Anne went on.

"Never given it a thought, Anne."

"Why—you like to talk about things as if you were rich; that means you must wish you were. We all do, sometimes—soberly staring out of the car—I asked you before and you gave me some silly answer, but what do you want most of all?"

John Andrew stopped the car. He said nothing, but the girl caught her breath, while exquisite color streamed over her face until it was like a pomegranate flower. "O," she said dimly, and swerved from him. Then, with a swift, lovely movement came closely against him, lips raised. "You—we—can get married—to-night," she breathed. "And drive—anywhere—in the car—and—"

The walls crashed about Jon Andrew's head. He shook himself clear of the debris and said shakily, "It's after 5, dear. Even in Hollywood you've got to have a license."

Anne nodded, but let him glimpse her shining eyes. For mile after mile the spell was unbroken and Kellogg drove automatically, turning here following the lines of traffic there, until the jade green Mercury, as if by itself approached the Poinsettia. By sheer force—it seemed to Kellogg—he prevented the diabolical roadster from swinging into the hotel drive—where, if he had taken Anne to dine, disaster would surely have resulted—and forced it to continue down the wide boulevard.

"I've never been in the Poinsettia," Anne suggested. "Some of the movie people live there——"

"Badly overrated," said John Andrew. "Nothing extra."

"But better than the boarding house on Sixth av., my lord?"

"Much the same sort of place," Kellogg grinned.

The Spanish room of el Hotel Fernando Rivera would have passed unrecognized by the old stalwart himself, who, even though indirectly, had an actual hand in the founding of el Pueblo de la Reina de los Angeles. In the thousand-odd rooms above the sellers of wares still arrived in great numbers—although the Indians are gone—with much the same sort of merchandise as was bought in Fernando's Rivera's own time, the same sort of merchandise as was bought in Fernando Rivera's own time, when there had arrived the cope of silk stuff with raised flowers and the frontal of the same material, only in red; there had been yellow and violet, and red ochre by the pound, the gross of running fire and carretillas to please the Indians, the bundles of tobacco, the 25 arrobas of chocolate—fine, superfine, and ordinary—the cloth bags of blue glass beads and the 12 gross of rosaries; the can of snuff and the three yards of gold galoons for trousers; the anise, and saffron and balsam, and heron oil and viper root, the chisels and augers and spikes and plowshares; all of these and many more, including the little barrel of grape brandy for holy mass.

Now things were not so very different—in this regard—from the early days. In the rooms of el Fernando Rivera—who was killed by those same Indios on the Colorado in escorting the expeditin into California, which founded Los Angeles—are representatives of tobacco companies, and farm implement plants, and patent medicine firms, and silk factors, and hardwood jobbers, and cloak and suit salesmen, and cosmetic dealers.

In the Spanish room all of them could dine—according to the advertisements—in authentic Spanish atmosphere.

Riatas are looped around the wall; there are spurs and—believe it or not—chaps; flintlocks crossed with sabers; every little balcony has its shawls or hanging of Spain's red and yellow. The cigaret girl even looks like a tiny Carmen.

Let the guitars twang
"Hide thy face
Peer across its edge at me."
Beneath thy fan;

and you are transported to the sunny days of senoritas, and brave deeds, and roses flung from iron barred windows and opulence and—and, if you have the wrong sort of imagination, strawberry colored bungalows with vermilion tiled roofs—just the sort of place to raise the kiddies, and only $750 down with easy payments.

Neither John Andrew nor Anne was so critical. They had been given an excellent table near a draped window, neither too near the entrance nor the serving doors; the menu—fortunately for the diners—was not in Spanish.

"First," said Anne, "I want—what are patties Cardinal?"

"Something red and not to be trusted," John Andrew suggested. "You have a bit of caviar—$1.25—but I don't care for the stuff. Then—"

"Cream of chicken Vanderbilt?"

At 00 cents? "I'd suggest consomme Milanaise—45 cents—instead of a thick soup. And how about—let's see—beef Wellington?"—$1.00—not a thing less than that which he could see!

"I want Grenadin Talleyrand," Anne smiled. "Don't tell me what it is but it sounds lovely and expensive."

A Story of Boyhood Adventure

BY JUDD M. LEWIS

IT was another bright and bammy morning when I let Jubilee down this morning, and when I was sorting out my britches to get into them I started to singing, but before I had got all my clothes on my father came to the stair door and hollered up and asted me if I had cramps or if I was singing, and if I was singing to please have cramps. All I could say was, "Yes sir." If I ever have a little boy and he wants to sing I will let him sing and I will like it. My father didn't like it because it was so early in the morning and woke him up. But my little boy won't have any cows to milk so he won't sing before anyone else gets up. The bunch came while I was cleaning out the stable, and Feeble said I would make a good wife for someone some day, and they all hollered like it was funny. Nibs came up behind me and throwed both arms around my neck and said, "Give me a kiss, sweetheart!" and I caught hold of his wrists and humped myself and throwed him over my head, and he went down flat, and I bet he wished I had got the stable a little cleaner before I flopped him. He said I couldn't take a joke, and I asted him if he could, and he said of course he could, so I said then to take Feeble. Then the laugh was on her, and she crossed her eyes and talked like she hadn't any pallet and said, "Thomas Aristides, I don't believe you love me any more!" and I said I never did, and then she said, "Why, Thomas Aristides, what did you mean by what you said to me yesterday?" and Younies looked at me kinda funny.

I got my milking done and me and the girls went in the house and whilst I was feeding my face my mother said she thought she smelt leather burning, but she went and looked and didn't see anything so she sot down again. When we got up my grandfather kicked off his slippers and started to put on his shoes and when he had got one on and almost laced up he began to do a highland fling around the room and use language that he oughtn't, and he was so excited we didn't know what was the matter with him. Finally he got his shoe kicked off and was rubbing his foot and my mother asted him what was the matter, and he said, "The matter is that that blankety-blank-blank shoe is red hot, that is what the matter is!" and my mother picked it up and said it didn't seem hot to her, and Feeble looked supprized and said we were the funniest family she ever saw, and then she asted my grandfather if his corns had popped. And he glaired at her and said he would pop her if he knowed she done it. So my mother must have been right about smelling leather. Nothing else happened today.

Love's Reawakening

A Wife's Triumph Over Jealousy

BY ADELE GARRISON

Harry Cautions Madge

"I'M anxious to hear your data on the detective," I told Harry Underwood as we stood upon the veranda of the Hasbrouck home in the Catskill Mountains. "But I'm more anxious to know how you eluded him. One minute he was close upon your trail. The next he was stopped by a policeman, though he was breaking no traffic law, and we did not see him again. I couldn't help thinking that you were responsible in some way, although how you could have been I don't know."

"You're a sapient dame," Mr. Underwood said in the flippant tone which he always uses when he is talking of any personal exploit, "but your imagination isn't following its usual hectic flight. Cast your mental eye over my wide acquaintance both with cops and gunmen and then consider what a wonderful invention the gifted Mr. Bell gave to the world a few decades ago."

"You telephoned that officer!" I exclaimed, "describing the man and his car and asked him to hold the detective on some pretext while you changed your route and got out of his reach."

"Whether you're guessing or deducing," Mr. Underwood drawled, "you're right on both counts. You see the policeman at that station is a mighty good friend of mine. I saved him from an awful jam once and he's never forgotten it. I don't know what pretext my pal held him on, but if it were anything from driving past a red light to arson or murder I'll bet a case could be made out against him. My cop wasn't running any risk in holding him out."

"Watch Mary"

"Then there's no danger of his coming up here now," I said breathlessly.

Mr. Underwood did not answer for a second or two. Then he tapped my shoulder reassuringly.

"I didn't admit that," he said slowly, "but you don't need to worry. That's why I'm talking to you now."

I swung toward him startled, for though he had told me not to worry, there was that in his voice which betrayed his concern over the situation.

"Tell me what you want me to do," I said.

"Keep watch over Mary," was his astounding reply.

"Mary!" I gasped. "You don't mean you think Jack Leslie——"

"No," he said thoughtfully. "I don't believe that lad has the resources to hire private detectives, although he might be behind it at that. But my instincts are pointing to somebody else whom I'm not going to name just at present for fear you'll have me sent to Bellevue as soon as we get back home."

"No one could be as dangerous as Leslie," I said with real relief at his last assertion.

"If my theory is right he won't be in the picture at all," he said, "but it is [illegible] imperative that you or Lillian or Mrs. Hasbrouck here—she seems to me a good scout—should know where Mary is every second of the time. If you can promise me that I can go back to New York with a mind at ease about this flat-footed dick."

I understood the sudden break in his steady tone. He would not be at ease concerning his wife until this unusual trip was over. I spoke quickly, earnestly.

"Of course I can promise you that, and keep it. I do not need to explain things to Mrs. Hasbrouck, or I can invent some plausible excuse, and she is a most resourceful lady. She can play chaperon to Mary if both Lillian and I are away from her at the same time. Do you want Mary to know anything about it?"

"Yes—and no," he returned. "I want her to be on her guard, but I don't want to give her the dope that's circulating in my so-called brain. Tell her that I've a hunch that Jack Leslie is circulating around this territory. That ought to keep her within bounds. But don't scare her too much."

"I won't," I promised although I did not see how I was to keep from frightening Mary if I had to deliver that message. "But I want a promise from you. Lillian told me how important it was that you should get back to New York tonight. I want your promise that you will make that bus."

"That depends upon how soon you get back from the Cosgroves," he said. "I want some dope about the situation [illegible] there that only you can give me. I want to know what sort of reception Lil's going to get from this Mrs. Cosgrove and if she'll need me with her. I'd rather be broiled on a gridiron than go over there—but if Lil needs me——"

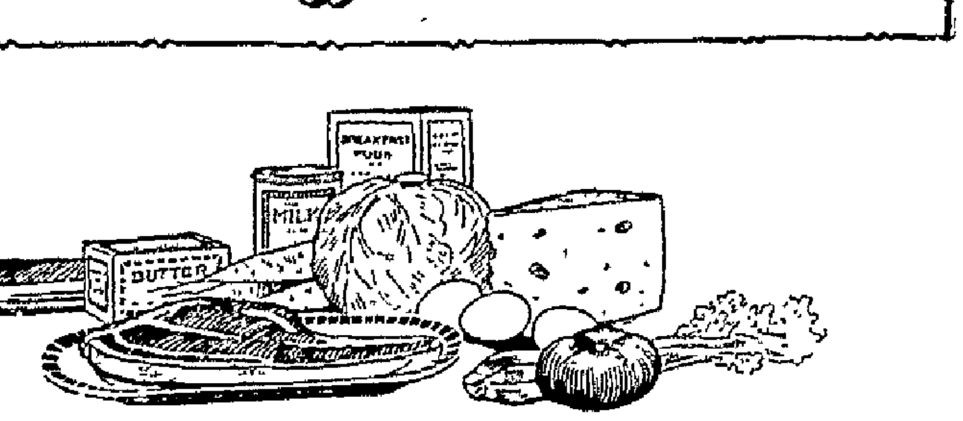
Cheap Bread Cheats
By Adding to Food Costs
There IS a difference in bread



WHEN you serve bread that lacks needed nourishment, you must serve more of expensive foods to make up a balanced meal. More of other foods are eaten when bread lacking food value is served.

When you serve Holsum bread generously, you cut food costs more than the cost of the loaf, almost every meal.

To cut food costs and promote better health hundreds are changing to Holsum. Thousands have changed to Holsum. Have you?
